

OUT OF TOWN WITH THE FBI

LL ASK FOR

Lundborg's Pe

CANOE

To be taken.

During the Club entered the city and view rooms in the airfare. The talk of in general, the Atlantic Association these reunions organized by in canoeing much larger

[illegible]

It is with envy in their booms that New York city anglers read accounts of the capture of a 200-pound salmon in the Hudson. Their envy seems quite justifiable when it is remembered that there are salmon at our very doors. The Hudson River is the only place to plough up or down the North River that does not startle hundreds of big fat salmon. Unfortunately, salmon have a habit of refusing to bite. In August, a waterway was reported last year that a salmon had been taken with a hook and line in the Hudson. The fish was above Troy, but the report lacked confirmation. There is no reason why salmon should be scarce in the Hudson. The salmon fishing season has opened in Maine sixteen days earlier than in New York. The Hudson is a tributary of the Bangor catch by far in the famous pool below the dam on the Penobscot on April 1, and the Hudson is a tributary of the Bangor catch of salmon on the Penobscot numbered less, the largest, 20% pounds, being

CARY'S 75-YARD RECORD.

It Does Not Prove that the 50-second Performance Was Not a Humbug.

Apropos of the attempt of several enthusiastic shorters to have the public believe that Cary's 75-yard record was not a humbug, the runner ran 100 yards in 50 seconds last fall. William B. Curtis has the following to say:

The former record was 74½. The difference between 75 and 74½ is only three-thirtyseconds of a second. It is not probable that the difference between the two performances had been timed with fifth second instead of quarter-second watches. It is almost certain that several of the best timers were present at the race.

The losers of the trial were the boys who were named in the 75-yard race. They were: J. H. White, and H. L. Lee. Of these six runners, only J. H. White and H. L. Lee were champions, while the others were certainly never up to the standard of the two winners.

[illegible][illegible][illegible]

some one to serve the papers on, but to find that the vessel had sailed, and that the cargo was on board having cleared for parts unknown. The libel was duly advertised, a hearing set for July 1st, and the cargo sold at a sale, ordered the proceeds to be distributed among the shipowners of the schooner. The reason for the delay in the case (as far as the cargo was made more a mystery from the fact that the cargo was not a valuable one, but in fact worth much less than the schooner.

Master and Slave to the Poorhouse Together.
From the Chattanooga Times.

SCOTTSBORO, Ala., May 7.—Yesterday morning an ox wagon came into town, bringing in two negroes, one old and one young, and their destination being the county poorhouse. The white man was old Uncle Jack Martin, one of the county's best known and most respected citizens, without friends and home. The old negro was Mr. Martin's former slave and had been a member of the family for years. Together passed life's rugged highway so long as one could work their both lives, but it was now the end of the road, and the old man crying; so they go to the poorhouse to die.

OUT OF TOWN WITH THE FISH.

WHAT THE TROUT ANGLERS ARE ALL WAITING FOR.

Lake Trout Fishing—Fischeret Time—Women Among the Tarpon—Striped Bass Hereabouts—Shad, Weakfish, and Walie on.

There are plenty of indications that all that is needed to bring on an attack of trout-fishing over in town is a warm rain all over the Middle and New England States. The country is now as dry as powder in certain places, and even an advantage to the angler in the first few really propitious and spring-like days we have enjoyed in the first of the month. A succession of days succeeding May 1, when the waters of the forest preserves were thrown open to law-abiding anglers, caused a lot of the dry as powder in certain places, the doctors' offices up town and down town.

There was very fair fishing then, because the weather was dry and the usual great drawback to spring angling in mountain brooks. The trout were in the best of condition and did not defeat the angler's best skill. Hence the first bloom of the fishing has been rubbed off, however, it is reported by anglers who have returned from the brookside that owing to the weather the trout are in the best of condition has been tardy about leaving the great trout waters in Maine, New Hampshire, and the Adirondacks, and waiting has only intensified the trout-killing mania of the city anglers. The trout are in the best of condition, however, from the waiting, however, and Sergeant Dunn's predictions are eagerly looked for in the newspapers at hundreds of city breakfast tables. Will the kind Sergeant please keep the weather cool enough for the angler to require a mild tonic occasionally at the brookside.

Most popular of all trout streams for the city anglers' brotherhood are undoubtedly the Moose River, Sullivan, Delaware, and Kitteridge.

[illegible][illegible][illegible][illegible][illegible][illegible][illegible]

Perfumes.

the Liveliest Season Known for Many Years.

The past winter the New York Canoe Club retained the canoeists of New York City every Saturday night at their "Fencers' Club on Twenty-fourth Street." The evenings were devoted to lectures on canoeing subjects and sociability.

Large numbers of canoeists from the division of the American Canoe Association attended.

It was considered that a plan has been evolved by some of the most prominent men in the city to take up this idea on a scale next winter.

The consists of the forming of an association known as the Canoeists' Club, consisting of some twenty buildings, some of which are situated between Twenty-third and Forty-second Streets, and between Madison and Sixth Avenues and other indoor games will be the Liveliest Season Known for Many Years.

The past winter the New York Canoe Club retained the canoeists of New York City every Saturday night at their "Fencers' Club on Twenty-fourth Street." The evenings were devoted to lectures on canoeing subjects and sociability.

Large numbers of canoeists from the division of the American Canoe Association attended.

It was considered that a plan has been evolved by some of the most prominent men in the city to take up this idea on a scale next winter.

The consists of the forming of an association known as the Canoeists' Club, consisting of some twenty buildings, some of which are situated between Twenty-third and Forty-second Streets, and between Madison and Sixth Avenues and other indoor games will be and the club house will be made as possible. Canoeists have long been of some place in the city where meet evenings during the winter have a social time. By this new year, the canoeing men could meet in a year round atmosphere of sociability, and thus tending to popularize the sport.

Work Canoe Club announces a race from Stapleton to Sandy Hook and one Saturday in June. This would be of forty miles. It would take a whole day in a fair wind to cover it, and as much of it would be on ice. It is like tempting Providence to venture out on a day when the racers might get well out while a fine blowing, but it is not likely that the wind will come from the right side. Should a storm arise while the race, the experiment of a canoe men's winter regatta would be a big surprise when Mr. Wintering-has done some good work, and is a Mr. Sheffield expects these alterations to improve her speed.

[illegible]

ed is in the boat, and can be t by a few alterations in the arof her sails. The canoe is ex-quick in stays.

diving & spring regatta, a number of regattas would be held during the summer. Each regatta would consist of a series of races, including a series of scrub races will art of the programme. The club regatta open regatta in September. A Simpson regatta will be held. The regatta will be from two to five miles away from the river in the canoe. One, with the crew will be in splendid conditions championship race on June 30. The regatta will be held in the club have commenced training them events. They will paddle and take a spin of two miles and every evening. The regatta will be in the Canoe Club. That he intends being in New York take part in the M. A. C. and Marine regatta. He also wants to arrange the intertribal canoe trophy of the Klamath. The singer, who was called on Gravesend Bay, Monday following the M. A. C. and M. and He will use Canuck for the last races. It will be remembered that Jones sailed for the international all and came very near taking it waters.

defended the United States in no, and had it not been that Jones in the bay in the place, the two certainly gone to Canada. Moore of the Knickerbocker Canoe missed his new canoe Tornado. Tor a racing canoe, pure and simple, 2 1/2 inches over all at much dead-end. The Klamath canoeist canoe Toothpick, owned by Mr. Dea, eliciting much interest and commending the members of the club. She was built by Francis H. Dea, of St. Francis, Mo., and is the latest racer built by an excellent piece of work. The new member of the club, Mr. Dea, immediately gathered his fellow members together and put them in their places before June 6. On that date the new member not found in its proper place by the time the summer regatta was held. The summer regatta was held on June 6, and the auction of the same will be held after part of June.

...students of the New York University go very fond of cruising. A team up the Hudson River every morning taking in the scenery, with them, about sun down on the same day was held Thursday afternoon on River between two canoes and a bridge. One of the canoes covered the river while the other third round.

...the members of the Knickerbocker, Brooklyn, and New York Canoe Club in the Yonkers Canoe Club on a day cruise to Croton Point on utions are hard at work preparing for the next meet in August on the golf course. Notices have been sent out for the purchase of flags, banners and other paraphernalia for the meet. For gala purposes, a special donation has been made from every club in the Association for the purpose of purchasing a perfume for the club race. The annual meet of the C. G. A. promises to be a success. The camp site has long been a favorite and work is about to be commencing to improve the grounds. A large building will be built, a kitchen and grill will be erected, and the prices of the center have been secured. There will be added to events of the Association. It will be a war

Interingham of the Brooklyn will move to Staten Island and will York Caneel Club as an associate.

of Boston will sail his new canoe
She is of odd design, but in cercought to be very fast.

Miss Mountains Romance.
from the Atlantic Constitution.
N. C., Mar 9.—From 'Tombola story of the marriage of Alpheus
Mrs. Grayling. Mrs. Grayling's been dead but a few months, and